

ABSTRACT

2 An emergency lamp for use in an area during ambient low light conditions is 3 provided. The emergency lamp comprises a hand-held housing having a first end and a 4 second end with at least one light emitting source within the housing. A power 5 mechanism mounted within the housing illuminates the light emitting source. An 6 activation mechanism activates the power mechanism only during low light conditions.